INTRODUCTION

This book presents compilations of information on all faiths in the United States. It is the 24th issue of the YEARBOOK OF AMERICAN CHURCHES. It is a work of reference published annually. As an annual publication it records the yearly changes of officers of numerous religious organizations, and provides a continuous record of the statistics that are also published yearly by the numerous religious bodies. All the information contained herein comes from the religious organizations themselves.

After long discussion it has been decided to use a method of dating followed by a number of other publishers of reference works. Thus this "Edition for 1956" contains data gathered in 1955 and presents the latest information secured at as recent a date as practicable for the publication schedule. It is well known that information must be gathered some months prior to the printing of a book.

The information on organized religion, and on related organizations in which it is believed that many religious agencies have an interest, consists chiefly of directories and of statistical and historical data.

Among the eleven directories, one is on certain religious bodies in Canada. The largest directory is the one devoted to the religious bodies, or communions, in the United States. An effort is made to record all known denominations, and to report data for those willing to furnish documentary information. A few have declined to furnish information. The names and addresses of these are given, with a note indicating information has been declined. The aim of the Editor is to be inclusive, to expand the coverage, and not to pass judgment on the nature of the program carried on.

The "latest information" on statistics is given under categories of church membership, religious education, clergy, and finance. These figures are compiled for Continental United States, i.e., the 48 states and the District of Columbia, and thus are not always the total official figures published by a given religious body, because some denominations in the U.S. include members in Canada, Alaska, Hawaii, or even in other nations. The purpose in presenting a compilation for Continental U.S. is to provide data comparable with similar tabulations made for many years.

Studies of trends, comparing the latest statistics with those of prior years are made for the purpose of aiding those who wish to make comparisons.

State and local councils are listed in three sections: those with paid leadership, those with voluntary leadership, and the state organizations of church women. It is understood that the local councils of church men are reported under the state and local councils of churches.

The user of this volume deserves a frank word concerning its limitations. A few of the directories do not contain every institution or organization in the United States. They do, however, contain large numbers of organizations believed to be needed in a national listing. There has not been available the staff time required to compile, or the money to print, the names of, say, every institution training clergymen, or every known religious periodical. At present it is not practical to present such lists because of costs of compilation and printing. Our listings have stood the pragmatic tests of many users.

All the information in this book has been supplied generously by others. It is possible to scrutinize and to check with previous reports the data supplied. Ordinarily, however, it has not been possible to verify these data. If in spite of great care errors have occurred, the Editor will thank the users of the book for corrections which will be made in the next edition.

The compilation and editing of the volume were committed to the Bureau of Research and Survey of the National Council. Executives and staff members of many units of the Council have shown an interest in the book and have gladly helped in the process of preparation.

Highlights

Among the information appearing in this book:

A total membership of 97,482,611 persons in 254 religious bodies in Continental United States is reported by official church statisticians in a compilation of "the latest information." Most of the bodies report figures for the calendar year 1954, or a fiscal year ending in 1954.

This is a gain of 2.8 per cent over the figures reported a year earlier. The population gain was 1.7 per cent. The number of Protestant members reported increased 2.3 per cent over the previous annual total; the number of Roman Catholics increased 2.9 per cent.

The total church membership is at a new high, as is the proportion of church members in the population—60.3 per cent.

The six major groups report members as follows:

Buddhist	63,000
Old Catholic and Polish National Catholic	367,918
Eastern Orthodox	2,024,219
Jewish	5,500,000
Roman Catholic	32,403,332
Protestant	57,124,142

The number of local churches reported by all faiths is 300,056, a gain of 1.9 per cent.

The total number of pastors reported having charges in local churches is 213,167. Only 219 bodies made a report on this item. The number of Protestant pastors reported with charges now stands at 193,522. All reporting bodies give a total of 341,422 ordained persons, many of these being retired or in other vocations.

There is a total enrollment of 37,623,530 persons in 262,826 Sunday or Sabbath schools. These have 2,970,614 teachers and officers. The gain in enrollment was 6.3 per cent for the year. Protestant churches reported 93 per cent of the total enrollment, or 34,990,572 persons.

There are 81 religious bodies with 50,000 or more members each, and these reported 98.4 per cent of all members of religious bodies.

NOTES:

Harvest Festivals are observed on appropriate Sundays from August through November.

This Calendar is partly from an insert for "The Christian Year," a Suggestive Guide for the Worship of the Church in the Pamphlet Library on Worship published by the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., 297 Fourth Ave., New York 10, N. Y. (Revised in 1954.)

A TABLE OF DATES AHEAD

The following table indicates when Easter and other important festival days occur during the next few years. It also indicates the number of Sundays during Epiphany and after Pentecost for each year of the period. Easter may come as early as March 22nd or as late as April 25th, thus bringing a wide variation in the number of Sundays included in certain of the Christian seasons.

2. RELIGIOUS BODIES IN THE UNITED STATES*

ADVENTIST BODIES

Advent Christian Church

A branch of the original Adventist group, composed of ministers and churches which withdrew from the American Millennial Association between 1854 and 1860, as a result of controversy over the question of immortality. As a corollary to their belief in conditional immortality, the group also held to the utter extinction of the wicked after the judgment. The General Conference was organized in 1860.

Seventh-day Adventists

This Protestant body developed out of an interdenominational movement that appeared in different countries of Christendom in the early decades of the nineteenth century, stressing the imminence of the Second Advent of Christ. However, Seventh-day Adventists were not formally organized until 1863. Taking the Bible as their sole rule of faith and practice, they are fundamentally evangelical, holding to the full inspiration of the Scriptures and the deity of Christ. Their two cardinal points of faith are: (1) belief in the personal, imminent, pre-millennial return of Christ, and (2) observance of the seventh day as the Sabbath.

The Russian Orthodox Church Outside Russia

(Formerly The Russian Orthodox Church Abroad)

Organized in 1920 to unite in one body of dioceses the missions and parishes of the Russian Orthodox Church outside of Russia. The governing body was set up in Constantinople sponsored by the Ecumenical Patriarchate. In 1921 headquarters were transferred to Sremsky Karlovtsy, Yugoslavia. From the end of World War II until 1950 the Synod was in Munich, Germany. In November, 1950, it came to the United States. The Russian Orthodox Church Outside Russia lays emphasis on being true to the old traditions of the Russian Church, but it does not compromise with official church leaders in Moscow, "since that would amount to being under the influence and direction of a godless State."

In addition to those in the United States, the Synod has dioceses and communities in Canada, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Paraguay, Uruguay, Peru and Venezuela. There are diocesan bishops in London, Paris, Munich, Salzburg and in Australia and New Zealand; parishes in North Africa, Turkey and Iran, and there is a Mission in Palestine.

Jehovah's witnesses

"Jehovah's witnesses adhere to the oldest religion on earth, the worship of Almighty God revealed in his Bible as Jehovah. From man's beginning there have been at all times some of Jehovah's witnesses on earth, adhering to the Bible principle of separateness from all parts of the world organization of men. In modern times Jehovah's witnesses are primitive Christians, recognizing and teaching the Bible as God's word of truth, believing it and following its commandments, which accounts for their consistent neutrality toward any nationalistic interests. They use the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, Inc., International Bible Students Association, and other corporations in their earth-wide preaching activity, and preach to all regardless of denomination. To be one of Jehovah's witnesses one must make an unconditional individual dedication to do the will of Almighty God and then must proceed faithfully to obey the commandments of God and Christ as expressed in the Bible, which course of action is the worship of God and is true religion.

"Therefore, all of Jehovah's witnesses are ministers of the gospel and have no human leader. Their Yearbook shows them active during 1954 in 159 countries of the earth, where there are approximately 580,000 such ministers preaching, teaching the people of all nations that God's word is true and that their only hope is in the Kingdom of Jehovah under Christ Jesus which has been established to rule over earth and which will replace all governments of man. There are now 3,350 congregations in continental United States, and worldwide 14,531 congregations." (From a statement by the President to the Editor of the Yearbook.)

The Methodist Church

The present organization of The Methodist Church began in May, 1939, with the unification of three branches of Methodism—the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and the Methodist Protestant Church. All three of the uniting churches were in unbroken historical connection with Methodism in America. The 1948 General Conference adopted a resolution stating that the Christmas Conference of 1784 is regarded as the date on which the organized Methodist Church was founded as an ecclesiastical organization. At this Conference, held in Lovely Lane Chapel, Baltimore, Francis Asbury and Thomas Coke were elected superintendents and a program of expansion was outlined. The Methodist movement began in England with John and Charles Wesley, leaders of an evangelical revival, and was carried to America in 1760 by Methodist emigrants from Ireland.

Muslims

There are local centers of worship among Muslims in the U.S.A. A mosque, said to be in accord with the full Muslim traditions, was erected in 1953 in Washington, D. C. There are perhaps 15 or 20 places of worship in cities in the nation. There is apparently no general organization, and there are only the most informal estimates of the number of persons affiliated with the local centers. It may be that there are from ten to twenty thousand persons who participate in these places of worship.

The information in this paragraph has been gathered by the Editor of this Yearbook, by means of correspondence and interviews with Muslims in the U.S.A.

Cumberland Presbyterian Church

An outgrowth of the Great Revival of 1800, the Cumberland Presbytery was organized on February 4, 1810, in Dickson County, Tenn., by three Presbyterian ministers, the Revs. Finis Ewing, Samuel King, and Samuel McAdow. Contributing factors to the organization were a rejection by the founders of the doctrine of fatality of the Westminster Confession of Faith, and an insistence that the rigid standards of the Presbyterian Church for the education of the clergy be relaxed in the light of extraordinary circumstances existing on the American frontier. The presbytery for a time sought admission into the Presbyterian Church, but, failing in this effort, developed eventually into a denomination. A union with the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., in 1906 was only partially successful. A considerable segment, to whom the terms of union were unsatisfactory, perpetuated the Cumberland Presbyterian Church as a separate denomination.

The Roman Catholic Church

The largest single body of Christians in the U.S., the Roman Catholic Church, is under the spiritual leadership of His Holiness Pope Pius XII. This body dates back to the priests who accompanied Columbus on his second voyage to the New World. A settlement, later discontinued, was made at St. Augustine, Fla. The continuous history of this Church in the Colonies began at St. Mary's, in Maryland, in 1634.

Churches: 20,794. Inclusive Membership: 32,403,332.
Sunday or Sabbath Schools: 17,639 (1949). Total Enrollment: 2,087,395.
Ordained clergy having charges: 15,277.

The Universalist Church of America

A democratic religious body believing in the worthiness of man and his ability to create the good life (Kingdom of God) for all men in this world. Modern Universalism emphasizes confidence in God and human nature, the universality of truth, the use of the scientific method in the quest for wiser human relationships, the right of each member to formulate his own philosophy of religion and the universal religious truths found in all of the great world religions.

The philosophy of Universalism originated with the doctrine of universal salvation in the first century A.D., and was carried to America in the 18th century by Dr. George DeBenneville, a French Huguenot, and John Murray, an Englishman.

B. WITH VOLUNTARY LEADERSHIP

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The following list comprises councils of churches and of religious education, with voluntary leadership. In order to conserve space, the term "council of churches" is not repeated with each entry.

Thus, e.g., "Mobile Council of Churches" is printed "Mobile," and the officer or officers follow with their addresses.

When the name of the agency is not a council of churches, it is printed in full.

STATISTICAL AND HISTORICAL SECTION

This section contains:

1. "The latest information" on church membership, religious education, and clergy, compiled from reports made by the official statisticians of religious bodies, for Continental United States. The figures furnished and here tabulated are mainly for the calendar year, 1954, or for a fiscal year ending in 1954. The methods used in this compilation are more fully described below. The most recent statistics on giving, as reported by a large number of religious bodies in the U.S.A. and Canada, and as published by the National Council's Department of Stewardship and Benevolence, are reprinted.

2. Studies of trends in church statistics, in some instances since 1926, in others since 1939. These studies are made for the purpose of aiding the user in understanding the significance of the annual compilation.

3. Brief excerpts from recent studies of church developments.

4. Information on recent publication of the Scriptures, and other religious books.

5. A list of depositories of church history material and sources.

1. THE LATEST INFORMATION

Church Membership

The reports on church membership received from official statisticians of religious bodies reveal a total membership of 97,482,611 persons in 254 bodies in 1954, compared with a total of 94,842,845 persons in 1953, published in the previous YEARBOOK. These figures are for Continental United States, i.e., the 48 states and the District of Columbia.

The total number of church members is equal to over 60.3 per cent of the population in Continental United States. This is the highest proportion of the population ever reported to be on the church rolls.

The gain of 2,639,766 persons is equal to 2.8 per cent for the year. The number of Protestants reported increased 2.3 per cent over the previous annual total. The number of Roman Catholics increased 2.9 per cent.

Between 1953 and 1954 the estimated population of Continental United States increased 1.7 per cent.

There were 300,056 local churches reported, compared with 294,359 a year earlier. The gain is equal to 1.9 per cent.

Of 268 religious bodies listed, there are 254 reporting church membership.

An analysis of the latest information in six major groups reveals the following:

[1] The figures for Jewish Congregations represent combined data for the three branches of Judaism: Orthodox, Conservative, Reform.

There are also Muslims in the United States, but no statistical reports are available. Informal estimates are cited in the directory of religious bodies in this Yearbook.

The Protestant church membership was equal to 58.6 per cent of all church membership in 1954—about the same as a year earlier. It seems that the major religious groups have developed in about the same relation to each other during the last 50 years. The data for 1926-54 are more fully discussed below.

A recital of these trends and data gives rise to the usual questions about definitions of membership. The Roman Catholics count all baptized persons, including infants. The Jews regard as members all Jews in communities having congregations. The Eastern Orthodox Churches include all persons in their nationality or cultural groups. Most Protestant bodies count only the persons who have attained full membership, and previous estimates have indicated that all but a small minority of these are over 13 years of age. However, many Lutheran bodies and the Protestant Episcopal Church now report all baptized persons, and not only those confirmed.

The Church of Christ, Scientist, did not furnish membership figures because of a regulation of that body that forbids "the numbering of people and the reporting of such statistics for publication." In the Census of Religious Bodies, 1936, published by the U. S. Bureau of the Census, there were reported 268,915 members of the Church of Christ, Scientist.

The table on church membership follows:

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

There were 262,826 Sunday or Sabbath schools in all religious bodies, with 2,970,614 teachers and officers, and a total enrollment of 37,623,530 persons.

A year earlier there was reported a total enrollment of 35,389,466. Thus the increase was 2,234,064 persons, or 6.3 per cent.

The Protestant churches, which have generally emphasized the Sunday school, reported 93 per cent of the total enrollment, and 93.6 per cent a year earlier. The total Protestant enrollment in this compilation is 34,990,572 persons.

Helen F. Spaulding of the staff of the Bureau of Research and Survey of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. has commented as follows on trends in Sunday school enrollment:

"Sunday school enrollment showed a healthy and continuous growth during the first third of the century. Then during the thirties something happened; momentum slowed down, and some of the religious bodies actually registered a loss. It was not until 1947 that there were definite signs of recovery."

NUMBER OF CLERGY

The inquiry to statisticians of religious bodies asked for information on only two questions: The number of pastors having charges, and the total number of ordained persons. The reports are, as for the previous book, incomplete. Only 219 bodies made a report for pastors having charges.

This year the total number of pastors reported as having charges is 213,167; the total number of ordained persons is 341,422.

Direct comparisons with previous years cannot be made because of the incomplete reporting. In the previous YEARBOOK there were reported 207,618 pastors having charges, and 338,250 ordained persons. Many pastors leave the ministry for other occupations or are retired, but their names are often included among the total number of clergymen reported by religious bodies.

According to the federal census of population, in 1940 there were 140,077 clergy of all faiths; in 1950 there were 168,419.

GROUPS OF RELIGIOUS BODIES

There is presented this year a tabulation of the latest information for the "families" or groups of religious bodies in the table that follows. In the parenthesis following the name of the "family" or group is the number of bodies reporting. No comparison is made with a previous year, because in some groups the same bodies do not report year by year.

In Explanation of the Annual Compilation of Church Statistics

1. This report contains "the latest information," tabulated just prior to the printing of the book.

2. It contains data for Continental United States only. This means the 48 states and the District of Columbia. The purpose in publishing this figure is to make it comparable with previous tabulations made for many years on the same basis.

3. Many bodies, when they publish their total membership, include members outside Continental United States. Thus the figure we publish may be less than the total official membership.

4. It may be that religious bodies will publicly report later figures than those given here, and may even report them about the time these figures are released. There is no way of avoiding this because the various religious bodies make their reports public at different times of the year.

5. These figures come from the official statisticians of the religious bodies. They are gathered by means of a standardized form mailed on the same day to all statisticians. The aim of the editor is to gather the figures from all religious bodies at the same time, with equal procedure and fairness to all.

CHURCH GIVING

A Compilation of the Latest Information, Completed November, 1954

(Reprint of Statistics of Giving, November, 1954, by the Joint Department of Stewardship and Benevolence of the National Council of Churches.)

Total contributions of $1,537,132,309 for all purposes are reported by 48 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox Churches in the United States. Of these bodies, 44 reported this year and a year earlier, and the gain in these Churches was 8.5 per cent.

For local congregational expenses, 47 bodies reported this year $1,228,257,647. The 44 bodies reporting this year and last showed a gain of 8.9 per cent.

For all benevolences, including home and foreign missions, 48 denominations reported $308,874,662. For the 44 bodies reporting this year and last, there was a gain of 6.8 per cent.

These are the highest totals ever recorded for these bodies.

The per member total contribution in 44 bodies was $45.36 this year, compared with $41.92 a year earlier, a gain of 8.2 per cent.*

For benevolences the per member gift in 44 bodies this year was $9.12, compared with $8.56, a gain of 6.5 per cent over a year earlier.

Canadian Church Reports

The latest information from six religious bodies in Canada reveals total contributions of $56,154,126, an increase of 5.6 per cent over those of a year earlier.

* Per member figures for the 44 bodies differ slightly from the figures in the tables below.

For benevolences, the sum of $10,737,629 was reported, an increase of 3.4 per cent. For congregational expenses the bodies reported $45,416,497, a gain of 6.2 per cent.

The per capita gift for all purposes was $33.49, an increase of $1.31, or over 4 per cent. For benevolences, the per capita gift was $6.40, only a slight increase over the $6.28 figure a year earlier. For congregational expenses, the per capita gift was $27.09, up from $25.89, or about 4.7 per cent.

Foreign Missions

For foreign missions, 45 bodies reported $60,087,502, and a per member gift of $1.57. For 44 bodies reporting both years, the total this year was $58,995,174, and a year earlier $53,298,340. The per member gift for the 44 bodies was $1.76 this year and $1.60 a year ago.

In Canada, five bodies reported a per member gift of $1.73 this year, compared with $1.76 a year earlier for foreign missions.

New Buildings and Other Capital Improvements

How large a factor are contributions for new buildings and other capital improvements? The question cannot be answered precisely from current reports. However, a search of published reports of six bodies for 1953 indicates that new buildings and other capital improvements may be equal to 35.1 per cent of all local congregational expenses. The bodies included were American Baptist; Congregational Christian; United Lutheran; Methodist; Presbyterian U.S.; Presbyterian U.S.A.; and Evangelical United Brethren.

Trends in Giving to 14 Bodies 1929-52

This year several comparisons are made of the data on contributions reported by 14* denominations yearly, 1929-52, with certain economic data for the same years. In these compilations the figures on giving reported in 1953, for example, are regarded as for 1952. (They do not include the figures reported in 1954 for fiscal years as noted in this report, below.) These computations supplement comparisons made in Statistics of Giving, published in 1953 and 1952.

In all these computations, the figure for 1939 = 100. The year was chosen because a number of studies of economic indicators made by both public and private organizations are made with that year as a base. It is regarded by many as the last year before World War II affected the economy of the United States.

* The fourteen denominations included in the comparative study are as follows:

Baptist, American Convention	Lutheran, United
Baptist, Southern Convention	The Methodist Church
Brethren, Church of the	Presbyterian, U.S.
Congregational Christian	Presbyterian, U.S.A.
Disciples of Christ, International Convention	Presbyterian, United
Evangelical and Reformed	Protestant Episcopal
Evangelical United Brethren	Reformed in America

In Chart I will be seen the trend in total contributions to 14 denominations compared with the trend in disposable personal income (total personal income minus taxes). As a percentage of 1939, total contributions were higher than disposable personal income in the years 1929-36; lower in the years 1940-48; and again higher in the years 1949-52.

To give figures: total contributions in 1929 were 147.3 per cent of 1939, and in 1952 were 371.1 per cent of 1939.

Disposable personal income in 1929 was 117.5 per cent of 1939, and in 1952 was 338.8 per cent of 1939.

In Chart II, the comparison is made between total contributions and total personal consumption expenditures. Personal consumption expenditures were 116.7 per cent of 1939 in 1929, while contributions were, as before stated, 147.3 per cent. Contributions continued to be a higher percentage of 1939 than personal consumption expenditures down to about 1936. In 1940, the position is reversed on the chart, but the two lines "ran together" until 1948, when contributions again resumed about the same position in relation to personal consumption expenditures that obtained in 1929-34.

Total Contributions ——— Per Capita Giving — — —

In Chart III are presented data on total contributions and on per capita giving. The main conclusion is that total contributions have since 1939 gone ahead more rapidly than per capita giving.

Highest Per Capita Gifts—All Purposes

The 15 denominations reporting this year the highest per member gift for all purposes, in order of rank, follow:

1.	Seventh-day Adventists	$173.35

Sources

All figures on giving here reported are those received from officials of the denominations. The current report is the 34th of a series, begun by the United Stewardship Council. The United Stewardship Council was one of the agencies merged in 1950 to form the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. The Joint Department of Stewardship and Benevolence of the National Council is the successor to the United Stewardship Council.

The reports here presented are from only a portion of the religious bodies in the United States. Total giving to all bodies can only be estimated, and no estimate has been made during the past few years.

Definitions

These statistics are furnished by national officials of the religious bodies reporting.

Budget Benevolence includes contributions from living donors to the benevolent budget of the denomination as determined by the proper authority.

Denominational Benevolence includes all of Budget Benevolences and such other contributions for the work of the denomination reporting as may be reported to denominational headquarters.

Other Benevolences are contributions for various benevolences not in the denominational list, and include only a small part of what is actually contributed, because only what is reported to denominational headquarters is included here.

Total Benevolences are the sum of Denominational Benevolences and Other Benevolences.

Congregational Expenses include contributions to expenses of the local parish or church, including building funds, repairs, fuel, minister's salary—anything that is for the local church.

Total Contributions are the sum of Total Benevolence and Congregational Expenses.

Concerning Membership

The terms, "per capita" and "per member," are used interchangeably in this publication.

The per member gifts here published are computed by use of the figure on membership furnished by the official reporting the data on giving. This official was asked to supply a figure of membership, 13 years of age and over. In some instances, the official reported or estimated membership 13 years of age and over, and in other instances, the figure was "inclusive" or "total membership," larger than the number 13 years of age and over.

The figures on giving are gathered at a different time than the annual compilation of church membership by the Central Department of Research and Survey, published in the Yearbook of American Churches.

2. SOME TRENDS

The annual compilation of statistics on church membership and religious education can best be understood by comparison with figures for previous years. In this section available church statistics for earlier years are summarized.

Proportion of Church Members in the Population

Throughout the history of the United States, the proportion of church members in the total population has risen. Data for a century are given in Table I, below. In 1850, 16 per cent of the population were recorded on the church membership rolls. By 1950, 57 per cent of the people were so reported. In 1954, the percentage was 60.3 per cent.

Prior to the Census of Religious Bodies, 1926, the basis of reporting members in a number of religious bodies was different from that followed in 1926 and since. For example, prior to 1926 a few bodies reported only heads of families as members; and a few other bodies at about that time began reporting as members all baptized persons, including infants, as members, instead of only adults. Thus the figures in the table for 1920 and prior years are not on the same basis as those in 1930 and following years.

It is apparent that the gains officially reported were at a more rapid rate from 1940 on than during the preceding two decades. The figures themselves obviously do not tell the reasons. But there is statistical evidence that the people turned to the churches in 1940-54, to a greater extent than during the 20's or the 30's. See Chart I and Table I.

Inclusive Membership of Religious Bodies

The number of church members of all faiths increased from 54,576,346 in 1926 to 86,830,490 in 1950, and 97,482,611 in 1954.

During the same period the population of Continental United States increased from 117,136,000 in 1926 to 161,762,000 in 1954.

The figures for 1950 and 1954 appearing in Table II below include estimates of the number of persons in the armed forces serving overseas, since the church members among those in the armed services are undoubtedly included on the rolls of their home churches.

For a comparison of the trends, see Tables II and III below. The gains of the churches have been far more rapid than the increase in the population.

Members Per Church Increasing

Since 1926, the average membership per local church (parish, congregation) of all religious bodies has been increasing. In 1926 the figure was 235; by 1950, it was 304; and by 1954, 325.

Comparing 1926 and 1954, the increase was 38 per cent (see Table IV).

Sunday and Sabbath Schools

The total number of Sunday and Sabbath schools in all religious bodies increased from 184,686 in 1926 to 246,240 in 1950, and 262,826 in 1954. (The term Sabbath schools is used to designate the schools of those bodies that observe the Sabbath on Saturday.)

The total enrollment in schools in all religious bodies increased from 23,206,374 persons in 1926 to 29,775,357 in 1950, and 37,623,530 in 1954 (see Table V).

Protestant and Roman Catholic Comparisons

No precise comparison is possible between Protestant and Roman Catholic figures. Most Protestant churches enumerate as members persons who have attained full membership, usually at age 13. Probably 90 to 95 per cent of Protestant members are over 13 years of age. Roman Catholics regard all baptized persons, including children, as members.

Since 1926, the total membership of Protestant churches increased from 31,511,701 to 50,079,578 in 1950, and 57,124,142 in 1954 (see Table VI).

Protestants were 27 per cent of the total population of Continental United States in 1926; 33.8 per cent in 1950; and 35.3 per cent in 1954 (see Table VII).

The membership of the Roman Catholic Church increased from 18,605,003 persons in 1926 to 28,634,878 in 1950, and 32,403,332 in 1954 (see Tables VIII and IX).

3. DATA ON RECENT CHURCH DEVELOPMENTS

Church Attendance Polls

According to sample polls of adults, 21 years of age and over, announced July 17, 1954, by the American Institute of Public Opinion, Princeton, N. J., 46 per cent of the persons interviewed stated that they had attended church during the week preceding the interview.

Similar polls have been made by the Institute since 1939, and the results were summarized as follows:

Date	Per cent of Adults Attending Church
February 1939	41
November 1940	37
May 1942	36
May 1947	45
April 1950	39
July 1954	46

Exactly half of the women interviewed stated that they had been to church in the previous week, while 42 per cent of the men had attended.

Attendance was higher among "white-collar" families and lowest among manual workers.

College people attend more frequently, according to the Institute's announcement, than those who do not go beyond high school or grammar school.

Considering size of community, the highest proportion of churchgoers was found among residents of cities between 10,000 and 100,000 population.

Following is a summary of the data released July 17, 1954:

	Per cent Attending	Per cent Not Attending
National	46	54

Why is there an increase in church-going? The Institute reported, December 17, 1954, answers given by a sample of adults, 21 years of age and over, to a question as follows:

"Figures show that there are more people going to church these days. How do you account for this increase in church-going?"

"Their replies:

"Fear, unrest, uncertainty of future	30%
"Renewed faith in God as Supreme Being	19
"Postwar reaction, effect of religion on military personnel	11
"Church programming, publicity better	9
"Eisenhower influence	2
"Miscellaneous	12
"Don't know	22
	105%

"The table adds to more than 100 per cent because some people gave more than one explanation. An additional 2 per cent said church attendance was off in their communities.

"While every group in the population agrees on the top two principal explanations, it is interesting to note that better church programming and publicity is named as the third reason by men, by people in the 50 years and over age group and by adults living in the Southern states.

"Proportionately more Catholics than Protestants say the increase is due to postwar reaction and the effect of religion on military personnel," the survey finds.

MINISTERS' SALARIES IN THREE RELIGIOUS BODIES, 1939-53

Because there is considerable public interest in ministers' salaries, and incomplete information available on the subject, we continue our canvass of published information on three religious bodies that have reported since 1939. (See previous yearbooks for earlier discussions, begun in the 1953 book.)

The three bodies are: Congregational Christian Churches, the Protestant Episcopal Church, and the United Presbyterian Church. It is possible that the trends in these three bodies are of general interest. The Congregational figures are cash salaries only. The figures for the other two bodies include rental allowance, actual rental value of dwellings furnished, or an estimate of the rental value of the minister's home.

To sum up the data in the table below:

For the first time since our reporting was begun, we note a slight increase in the purchasing power of the average salary in 1953, compared with 1939, in two bodies, the Congregational Christian Churches and the United Presbyterian Church.

In the Episcopal Church, the average salary in 1953 had less purchasing power than the average paid in 1939, but that of 1953 was better than for any year since 1946.

In the Congregational Christian Churches, the average salary, in current dollars, increased from $1,769 in 1939 to $3,484 in 1953; but, in 1953, the salary "in 1939 dollars" was $1,809, a slight increase from $1,734 in 1952.

In the United Presbyterian Church, the average annual salary was $1,979 in 1939, and $3,940 in 1953. In "1939 dollars," the 1953 figure was $2,046, a slight decrease from $1,941 in 1952.

In the Episcopal Church, the average annual salary advanced from $2,725 in 1939 to $4,555 in 1953. But in 1939 dollars, the 1953 figure was $2,365. This was considerably above the $2,097 for 1948 in "1939 dollars." In 1950, the figure in "1939 dollars" was $2,348.

When the rent is paid by the parish for quarters not owned by the parish the full rent figure is used.") Data for 1953 by correspondence with the Pension Fund.

Census Data on Clergymen's Incomes

The incomes of clergymen of all faiths, based on a 20 per cent sample, as given by persons in the course of the Census of Population, 1950, have been published by the Bureau of the Census in Volume II, Characteristics of the Population, Part I, U.S. Summary, Table 129 (Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, 1953. $3.75). The figures are for the calendar year 1949. Data on incomes of members of many other vocations are also published.

The median income reported by male clergymen for 1949 was $2,412. Eighty-five per cent of the clergymen reported an income of less than $4,000 for 1949. Presumably the figure was given in terms of cash, not including rental value of living quarters which are furnished for many clergymen, since the enumerators asked for a figure with no qualifications. Possibly, there are also included persons giving their main calling as clergymen who also have other occupations.

The figures for males in certain groups are as follows:

Median Incomes by States

In Parts 2 to 50 of Characteristics of the Population, as noted above, with separate books published for each part, will be found median incomes of clergymen by states, and also in certain metropolitan areas. The states for which clergymen's incomes are reported, and a number of metropolitan areas we have selected, are given below, with states arranged by regions. When no tabulation appears, it is apparently because of insufficient data from the 20 per cent sample.

Church-Affiliated Day Schools

In 1952, there were about 3,000 Protestant church-affiliated day schools with about 187,000 children enrolled, compared with about 2,000 schools and 110,000 pupils in 1937. These were nursery, kindergarten and elementary schools. The figures appeared in Information Service, National Council of Churches, May 3, 1952. Later figures have not been available.

The Official Catholic Directory, 1952, New York, reported 2,692,706 pupils in 8,358 elementary parochial schools in the Roman Catholic Church, at that time an all-time high for that body. Later figures for Roman Catholics are found in subsequent annual issues of the Directory.

Women in the Ministry

Since the publication of the 1953 Yearbook, the Bureau of the Census has published figures reporting 6,777 women clergymen, or 4.1 per cent of the total number of clergymen, which was 168,419, according to the population census of 1950. The figures are for all religious bodies of all faiths, and there are no separate figures according to religious body.

A study of available published reports, appearing in Information Service, May 31, 1952, revealed 5,791 ordained or licensed women ministers, of whom 2,896 were pastors of local churches. Of the pastors reported about one-tenth were in communions affiliated with the National Council of Churches. A precise count could not be made, and the data were limited to the denominations publishing data. The figures could not be compared directly with any other compilation. It appears that 63 religious bodies ordain women, while a total of 77 bodies ordain or license. Seven of these "give women special status of some sort."

For a later discussion, "Women Ministers Today," see Information Service, National Council of Churches, March 6, 1954.

Value of New Construction of Religious Buildings

Estimates of the annual value of new construction of religious buildings, 1920-1952 inclusive, are found in Statistical Supplement, May, 1953, Construction and Building Materials, published by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington.

The published figures follow:

4. THE SCRIPTURES AND RELIGIOUS BOOK PUBLISHING

In the 1953 Yearbook appeared comprehensive information concerning the publication of the Holy Bible: Revised Standard Version by Protestant scholars; the Confraternity Editions of the Scriptures of the Roman Catholics; and the plans for a complete Biblical Anthology by Rabbinical scholars (see pages 294-299 of the 1953 Yearbook). Included was a thorough article on the Revised Standard Version of the Bible by Luther A. Weigle, dean emeritus of the Divinity School of Yale University, and chairman of the Standard Bible Committee of the National Council of Churches.

In 1955, Dr. Weigle announced the publication of a pamphlet, Bible Words That Have Changed Their Meaning. It contains about 850 words and is designed as a teaching instrument in local churches and in Bible study classes. It is edited by Dr. Weigle, and published (1955) by Thomas Nelson and Sons, New York.

Progress was reported by Dr. Weigle on the translation of the Apocrypha. It is expected that the translation will appear in 1957.

There continued to be a widespread response to the Revised Standard Version. Thomas Nelson and Sons, New York, publishers, reported total sales of 3,298,367 copies on April 30, 1955. In the catalog of the publisher there were listed 26 editions, with many styles for each edition. In the 12 months prior to May, 1955, eight new editions were published. About 5,000 retail stores were distributing the Version in the United States and Canada. An edition published in Edinburgh was widely circulated and received an especially good response in Australia.

A Pulpit Bible, first published in 1954, went into three bindings, with over 4,000 copies sold by April, 1955.

Confraternity Editions

The St. Anthony Guild Press, Paterson 3, N. J., has published for the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, the following volumes of Scripture, translated under the auspices of the Episcopal Committee of the Confraternity:

The New Testament

First edition, 1941. In the course of various subsequent reprintings, numerous corrections and emendations were made piecemeal; these are listed collectively in the records as the second edition. The third, and definitive, edition was published in 1947.

The Old Testament

The Book of Genesis:

First printing, 1948. Second printing, with slight emendations, 1949. A third printing, using the 1949 text and including at the end of the book a set of discussion questions, was made in 1950 for the Most Rev. Edwin V. O'Hara, who made it the discussion-club text for that year in all the clubs of his diocese (Kansas City, Mo.). This book, with final corrections, was incorporated in Volume I of the Old Testament, 1952 (see below).

The Book of Psalms and the Canticles of the Roman Breviary:

First printing, 1950. This book, with final corrections, will be incorporated in the volume of the Old Testament now in active work (see below).

The Old Testament, Genesis-Ruth (Vol. I):

First edition, 1952. Second edition, 1953. This is the first of a planned 4-volume translation of the Old Testament. See next entry.

The Old Testament (Vol. III)—Job, Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, Canticle of Canticles, Wisdom, Sirach (Ecclesiasticus):

These seven books, the sapiential books, (actually Vol. III, although they constitute the second unit of the Old Testament to be published in this series) were scheduled to be published in 1955, according to information received when the Yearbook went to press. Vol. II, comprising the remainder of the historical books, and Vol. IV, the prophetical books, will appear in due course.

Translations

The Bible is read in this country, and by millions outside of this country, in languages other than English. For many of these people the only Scriptures available are those translated and published under the auspices of the members of the United Bible Societies. The Bible Societies derive the funds to subsidize these Scriptures from the churches in the homelands.

In 1954 the American Bible Society published first New Testaments in Aymara (Peru) and Ecuadorean Quechua; first Gospels in Bandi and Gbeapo (Liberia), Ayacucho and Junin Quechua (Peru); and Sierra Aztec (Mexico); and additional portions in Kekchi (Guatemala), Kpelle (Liberia), Maya and Sierra Juarez Zapotec (Mexico); a revised Testament in Cakchiquel (Guatemala), a revised Bible for the Gilbert Islands, and Luke in Tagalog (Philippines). In Japan appeared the new Colloquial (Kogatai) New Testament, to be followed in 1955 by the whole Bible. There were also in the press the revised Tshwa Bible (South Africa), Luvale Old Testament (Rhodesia), the first Testaments in Conob (Guatemala) and Tzeltal (Mexico) and Navajo. The draft revision of the Spanish Valera Bible was completed, and a revision in Portuguese was in process in Brazil. To meet the demand for revisions where languages are changing and national scholars developing, revision committees were at work on Cebuan, Hiligaynon Ilocano and Tagalog in the Philippines, Chiluba and Bulu in Africa, and in Siamese; while work was progressing to complete Bibles and Testaments in many other languages.

As at the end of 1954 the whole Bible had been published in 206 languages and dialects, Testaments in 260 additional, and at least a complete book of the Bible in 618 more, making a total of 1,084 languages and dialects in which some part of the Bible had been printed since the invention of printing.

Religious Book Publishing

In 1954, 774 new books published were classified as religious, in the annual announcement of American Book Publication, in Publishers' Weekly, New York, January 22, 1955. This compares with 725 in 1953, and 715 in 1952. New books in all categories totaled 9,690 in 1954, and 9,724 in 1953.

The receipts of publishers for Bibles and religious books were $28,900,000 in 1947. Estimates of receipts in 1952 were $56,800,000, and $55,000,000 in 1954. The figures of receipts of publishers "do not represent sales at retail except in the case of book clubs and subscription books and a small proportion of mail order sales in other categories," it is noted in the Weekly.

Religious Books as Best Sellers

Religious books were again high on the list of non-fiction "best sellers" in 1954, according to the annual compilation of figures of publishers announced in Publishers' Weekly, New York, January 22, 1955.

"The often repeated statement that the Bible is the best seller among all books is strengthened, at least for mid-century America, by the appearance for the third consecutive year of the Revised Standard Version of the Holy Bible at the top of the non-fiction best seller list." The Weekly asserts that in compiling the list, "book club and newsstand sales are not included." Also, for some years, there have been excluded from the list the various "how to," gadget books, picture books, game books, "except in the year of their first appearance on the list." "We have followed this policy so that the non-fiction list will reflect more precisely the reading taste of Americans rather than their interests in learning . . . " canasta.

Three other books among the ten best sellers were: The Power of Positive Thinking, by Norman Vincent Peale; The Prayers of Peter Marshall, edited by Catherine Marshall; This I Believe, 2nd series, edited by Raymond Swing.

Why 65,000 Churches use the Upper Room in their regular ministry

The Upper Room is a practical demonstration of World Christian Fellowship—international, interracial, interdenominational.

It is family centered, helps build family altars, strengthens family ties.

It upholds the church and its programs, supports and undergirds the minister.

It makes its way into the lives of those who have no active interest in religion.

It develops regular habits of Bible reading, prayer and meditation; comforts and strengthens, encourages and inspires.

Published bi-monthly, with devotions for each day.

Price, in lots of ten or more to one address, 5 cents per copy.

Yearly subscriptions, 50 cents, two years, $1.00. Sample copy on request.

A church should never "beg" for funds . . . never!

This is the frank and considered opinion of the world's leading specialists in church fund-raising

THE spiritual advance that followers of Christ all over the world hope and pray for cannot come in fullest measure until it gets a new kind of support by the laity. It cannot come without a revolution in our very attitude toward Christian giving.

The concept is not "new." It is as old as Christianity itself. It was given to the world in the Sermon on the Mount.

It is the concept of "the need of the giver to give" . . . that Christian giving is not based on "how much the church needs" but, rather, on "how much a member needs to give."

Time and again in our work we have seen this great Christian concept almost miraculously revitalize the spiritual and financial life of a church. Time after time we have seen the "unexpected" come to pass—a church, heavily in debt, made free; a congregation, somnolent and dying, awakened to new life; an "impossible" building-fund requirement met and surpassed; "fringe" members brought back to active participation.

But we cannot be astonished that these things happen. The words of Our Lord Himself guarantee that they will. Does He not tell us, if the text may be paraphrased, that our interests will follow our dollars?

"For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also."—MATTHEW 6:21.

Our organization is the largest of its kind in the world. We help churches solve their financial problems by creative fund-raising, not by begging. This year we will advise over 6,000 churches regarding their financial programs and fund-raising problems, entirely without obligation. We will also direct more than 1,500 fund-raising canvasses—many for annual budgets only, others for capital needs. In every one of them, Christ's own concept of giving will be the Way.

THE AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY

450 Park Avenue, New York 22, N. Y.

The American Bible Society has as its single purpose the encouragement of the wider circulation of the Holy Scriptures without note or comment, and without purpose of profit, to every man in whatever language he may require.

The American Bible Society serves hundreds of missionary societies and church bodies in the United States and abroad. Its supreme concern is to get the Bible into the hands of those who do not have it in such a manner as to secure serious interest and receptive minds.

It aids translators by counsel, supervision, and contributions toward expenses in projects continuously going on in various languages.

Long experience with skillful supervision results in the publication of readable and durable Scriptures at low cost. In recent years printing orders have reached more than fifteen million volumes of Gospels, Testaments, and Bibles per year. Centers of publication include London, Glasgow, Beirut, Cairo, Bangkok, Manila, Hong Kong, and Tokyo, as well as cities in the United States.

The Society's own staff distributes hundreds of thousands of Scriptures. Many more go out through Christian workers, pastors, missionaries, and evangelists. Efforts are made to secure a wider use of the Scriptures by various methods including a special reading campaign from Thanksgiving to Christmas and promotion of Universal Bible Sunday in the midst of that period.

The world never needed the Bible as it does today and there were never more people asking for it. If the millions of Korea, Latin America, and elsewhere are to get the Scriptures the American Bible Society must assume the principal responsibility.

The Society is supported by voluntary contributions and looks to the churches for its main support. Does your church give?

SABBATH TRUTH

God's Word is Truth. (John 17:17). He says, "The seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God." (Ex.20:10). Do you agree? "Can two walk together, except they be agreed?" (Amos 3:3). Some call it the "Jewish Sabbath." Our calendars name it "Saturday." So that everyone may know the Truth (John 8:32) which may free us from war, floods and drouth (Lev. 26:1-12), please ask your Congressman to name the seventh day "Sabbath" (as it is designated by most leading languages) with no "blank" days. Then when the gates are open "that the righteous nation which keepeth the Truth may enter in" (Isa. 26:2), ours may be among "the nations that are saved." (Rev. 21:23-27).

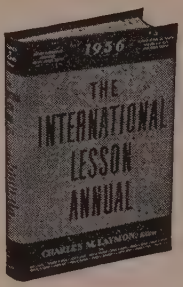
THE NEW COMMENTARY on the International Sunday School Lessons—using both the King James and the Revised Standard versions



THE INTERNATIONAL LESSON ANNUAL 1956

edited by CHARLES M. LAYMON
lesson analysis by ROY L. SMITH

The new comprehensive commentary on the International Sunday School Lessons. Able ministers from many denominations have joined to bring the best in interpretative and teaching aids in The International Lesson Annual—the best in scholarship and interpretation to help present an informed, inspiring lesson for adult classes.

For every lesson in 1956, these specific helps:

TEXT—the complete text in both King James and Revised Standard versions, printed in parallel columns for easy comparison
EXPLANATION—distinguished scholars bring out special meanings not readily gained from the text alone
APPLICATION—Roy L. Smith makes a penetrating analysis of what the Bible text means in terms of our life today
TEACHING SUGGESTIONS—step-by-step suggestions, by outstanding preachers, for making the message of the lesson clear to the class

Plus these unique features:

Unit Organization—the lessons are organized into stimulating units, with several lessons in each, making every lesson a part of a wider framework of Christian life and thought
Audio-visual Resources—lists of related films and filmstrips, with summaries of content, running time, and rental prices
Articles on Special Days—by well-known religious authors
Annotated Daily Bible Readings—with brief interpretations

For the teacher with little or much training—for individual use as resource reading on the International Lessons for the entire year. The answer to a long-felt need—the first in a series of lesson aids that will make a place for itself comparable to that of The Interpreter's Bible.

Good fund-campaigns seldom are directed by amateurs - - -

When your Church needs funds, employ a competent counsel to assist you. The reason is obvious. He knows what to do—he knows what not to do! ¶ He can help you avoid costly errors. He will bring your people together in a well organized, efficient effort that builds good will. He helps you get your goal. ¶ It is safer and more economical to use a proved counsel's knowledge and skill. ¶ The Bureau's record of success through more than 42 years and 3,300 campaigns is at your command. ¶ Professional help always costs less than guesswork!

The Fund

No one need ask "What Fund?" There is only one Fund. Among the clergy it stands out as in a class by itself. For over two centuries, its service to the members of the cloth has been building up life-long friendships. All denominations enjoy its privileges. The best people speak of it in the highest terms.

Sound reasons can be given for such fidelity. Write and find out what they are.

When You Consider Fund-Raising Counsel For Your Church You Want To Be Sure...

. . . that the goal which you accept is reasonable and can be achieved, yet is not understated merely to benefit your professional counsel.

LAWSON ASSOCIATES surveys and analyses — prepared without cost or obligation BEFORE your church decides upon a campaign — determine accurately for you (and, as important, for us) the reasonable goal for your congregation. Yet, LAWSON ASSOCIATES consistently achieves higher goals, and at lower cost to you.

. . . that any effort undertaken in your church will be on a spiritual plane commensurate with the ultimate goal of your church, and not alone for immediate monetary benefits.

LAWSON ASSOCIATES campaigns are planned and directed with proper regard to this fact: while the immediate goal of a funds appeal is monetary and of the moment, there are long-range goals which your church has set and which a properly directed funds appeal should further.

. . . that the firm with which you deal is worthy of your trust.

LAWSON ASSOCIATES has a long-standing reputation for excellence which is more precious than any short-lived burst of notoriety. This reputation comes from the trust which past clients have placed in us because of our adherence to the items mentioned above. It will continue so long as we continue and improve upon our service to the churches of this and other nations.

AMERICAN LEPROSY MISSIONS, INC.

156 Fifth Avenue, Suite 1134, New York 10, N. Y.

A CHRISTIAN WORLD MINISTRY SINCE 1874

In cooperation with 62 denominational and interdenominational mission boards, American Leprosy Missions carries on a world-wide campaign against one of the most feared and baffling afflictions known to man—leprosy, now called Hansen's disease.

Each year more than half a million dollars is sent to some 160 hospital settlements, clinics and villages in 32 countries where more than 60,000 men, women and children receive the most modern treatment for Hansen's disease.

In addition to providing medicines, food, clothing and other essentials, American Leprosy Missions also builds new hospitals, churches, clinics, dormitories, schools and homes for children.

One of the most important aspects of American Leprosy Missions' present-day program is the provision of rehabilitative and vocational training for arrested cases. Because of the dramatic medical and surgical advances in Hansen's disease therapy during the last decade, hundreds of patients are being discharged from our hospitals each year. The difficulties facing these former leprosy cases, both in earning a living and winning the acceptance of society is one of Christian missions' greatest challenges.

Equally emphasized in our ministry to victims of Hansen's disease is the importance of preventing contagion in children. A feebly communicative disease, Hansen's disease is contracted for the most part in childhood, and after prolonged contact with an open case. Mission settlements, therefore, provide separate facilities for the healthy children of patients, where they may be near their parents but safe from contagion.

For further information on Hansen's disease and how Christian missionaries are fighting it throughout the world, write for our free literature.
